

Resonant Field Imaging(TM)

<http://www.item-bioenergy.com>

Ruchika Sharma
Tue Aug 04 01:07:25 IST 2015

RESONANT FIELD IMAGING™ Bioenergy Field Image Interpretations

Subject: XXXX
Investigator: Nishant
Date: Tue Aug 04 01:07:25 IST 2015

Session Notes: Main issues which can found out during the conversation is the feeling of Being Guilty of a past action that led to suppression of emotions which could not be channelled well and in turn caused stress in the body to be stored inside it. As a result, a lot of insecurity & instability came into existence in the mind which creates physical diseases/issues like back pain & weak bones, palpitation & shivering in case of anger or rage (feeling extreme stress).

You are sensitive energetically and feel other's emotion quickly that makes your aura vulnerable and you end up absorbing the negative energies from others in your environment.

Remedies to be done for the next 30 days (Till 5th September' 15)

Meditation: Practice Hoopono'pono meditation once a day for the next 30 days to transform the feelings of Guilt & Increase forgiveness, compassion for yourself and others.

Here is the YouTube link of the same: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VmX7RYOe_2s

Affirmation: I am releasing all memories of the past that no longer serves me. People, events, memories, belief no longer control me. I am free.

Spiritual workshops & Sessions: www.WisdomFromLight.com
Checkout our Spiritual Healing Jewellery: www.Zenergy.in

Write this affirmation 21 times with Pink or Green coloured pen at night just before sleeping.

Crystal to wear: A combination of pink moonstone & green jade bracelet will help to release negative memories gently from the mind and make you more stable energetically.

To help stop the negative energies from entering your aura, wearing a black tourmaline pendant in the neck is advised. It protects your aura and gives you stability at all levels.

Bach flower remedies

Duration: 30 days

Remedies: Sweet chestnut & Rock rose

Read about the remedies here: http://health-parameters.com/bach-flower-characteristics/#%3Cstrong%3Erock_rose%3C%2Fstrong%3E

Frequency/Day: Thrice a day

Dosage: Around 3-4 pills or drops at one time

Resonant Field Imaging™, or RFI™, an external type of magnetic resonance imaging, is a trademark of Innovation Technologies and Energy Medicine, Inc. (ITEM) (www.item-bioenergy.com). All data, images, descriptions, interpretations, and the computer program are Copyright 1998-2006 by ITEM. All International Rights Reserved.

RFI™ is designed only for use in health psychology and collaborative health care, to provide data relating client psychology to health conditions, and to alert non-medical professionals when a referral should be made. The technology is not intended for any medical diagnosis.

PSYCHOLOGICAL LEVEL INTERPRETATIONS

The Psychological (Emotional) Level of the human bioenergy field, radiating 4-18 inches from the physical body, is highly characterized by the emotional and psychological conditions and attributes of the subject.

Left Psychological Level Analysis - Environmental Influences

The left side of the Psychological Level, connected to the right hemisphere of the brain, reveals how the subject experiences or perceives the world, or which energies the person is receiving from his or her social environment. Left body bioenergies generally consist of energy-information imprints from predominant energies in a person's environment, to which the person is the most strongly or frequently exposed. This may also indicate a propensity or tendency to receive and absorb the detected energies, or an inherent sensitivity to such energies.

The left hand is the primary channel for inflow of electrofield energy through the ulnar and radial nerves, so it is the most significant for revealing the subject's environmental influences and perceptions.

Distribution of bioenergies detected in the Left Psychological Level:

Rose: 25%; Orange: 12.5%; Gold: 12.5%; Yellow: 12.5%; Green: 12.5%; Black: 12.5%; Blue: 12.5%

Based on the bioenergy frequencies measured, the following descriptions characterize the nature of the energies you are receiving from others and the environment:

- Orange: You are receiving energies characterized by comfort, healing and vitality from others or the environment.
- Yellow: You are within an environment in which the energies are generally stable and peaceful. Such energies may be produced by people or other things around you.
- Green: You are receiving emotional energies from others. These energies are generally interpreted as positive, and are often from those who have a personal relationship with you.
- Blue: Someone or something is attempting to communicate or is in the process of communicating with you, either consciously or subconsciously.
- Rose: You are receiving energies characterized by physical and sensual enjoyment, including fun, entertainment and physical contact with others.
- Gold: You are receiving an abundance of uninhibited healing energies from people or things in your environment.
- Black: Your ability to receive life-enhancing energies is diminished within the region(s) determined to be black. Such a condition may produce stress on the physical body. Subsequent measurements are recommended for verification of this condition. If this condition persists, it is recommended that a mental health professional be consulted, particularly one with an understanding of metaphysical sciences.

Right Psychological Level Analysis - Behavioral Patterns

The right side of the body, connected to the left hemisphere of the brain, reveals how the subject interacts socially, or which bioenergies the person contributes or transmits back into their environment. Right body bioenergies generally influence the way others perceive and respond to the subject. They indicate the subject's current reactions to present situations, and predominant habits or behaviors for interacting with his or her environment.

The right hand is the primary channel for outflow of electrofield energy through the ulnar and radial nerves, so it is the most significant for revealing the subject's reactions and behavioral patterns.

Distribution of bioenergies detected in the Right Psychological Level:

Red: 25%; Yellow: 12.5%; Cyan: 12.5%; Black: 12.5%; Navy: 37.5%

Based on the bioenergy frequencies measured, the following descriptions characterize the nature of the energies you are projecting to others and the environment:

- Red: You have a strong physical and materialistic focus, ambition, and desire for success. You generally have a strong personality and you may become impatient when events do not occur as planned.
- Yellow: You project thoughts of happiness and well being toward others. You also project a desire for emotional stability. You attempt to live and operate within a framework that is comfortable, and may be cautious in personal matters.
- Cyan: You are a sensitive, empathetic person who expresses emotions as a form of communication.
- Black: You are experiencing an energetic blockage in the expression of thoughts or desires. This blockage may be due to a number of reasons, including repression of past events, insecurities or fears.
- Navy: You are a leader and are highly intelligent. You have the ability to effectively influence the perceptions of others. You have the ability to swiftly bring about change, but be cautious of your perspectives and intentions, as such gifts carry a great responsibility.

Cerebral Bioenergy Analysis - Predominant Thoughts

The regions of bioelectrical field around the head consist of electromagnetic brain waves. The left head (on right side of chart) shows left brain activity, the right head (on the left side of the chart) shows right brain activity, and the regions on the top of the head show integrated brain activity. The brain waves in these cerebral regions reveal inherent characteristics of the person, particularly their predominant thoughts and mental preoccupations.

Distribution of detected bioenergies within the Cerebral Regions:

Green: 40%; Cyan: 20%; Navy: 20%; White: 20%

Green - Emotional energy, love and caring, can also be negative emotion or trauma. Subject is experiencing some emotional event or situation.

Cyan - Emotional energy. Subject exhibits empathy and sensitivity to emotions of others, and is likely to be communicating or expressing their own emotions, either consciously or subconsciously.

Navy - Leadership. Expression of intellectual ideas which involve or influence material or social situations.

White - Pure, high-frequency electrofield energy is projecting from this part of the body. Indicates a discharge of bioenergy, usually in the form of emotional release. May also indicate a mental or emotional state focused on life force energies, purity, and truth.

Chakra Bioenergy Analysis - Personal Characteristics

The Chakras are bioenergy vortexes located at fixed points along the spinal column, which radiate energy-information related to the activity of corresponding endocrine glands. In accordance with the known functions of the endocrine glands, each Chakra represents a category, or sphere, of the subject's life. The color of bioenergy found in each Chakra reveals events and conditions in that category of the person's life.

The color Purple (related to rational and intellectual thinking) in the Base Chakra means that you identify deeply with your mental and intellectual nature. Since the Base Chakra is also a position of sexuality, the color Purple in this location may also indicate a tendency to approach sexuality in an analytical manner.

The color White (related to pure "life force" energies) in the Sacral Chakra means that your health is being maintained through higher consciousness and "life force" energies. The color White in this location may also indicate healing provided through a union with a non-physical being or entity.

The color Burgundy (related to instincts, needs and desires) in the Solar Plexus Chakra means that the satisfaction of basic human needs and desires exerts the most influence over the way you handle stress, and your state of mind.

The color Orchid (related to truth and spirituality) in the Heart Chakra means that your experience of emotions is used consciously for spiritual growth.

The color Gold (related to abundant healing) in the Throat Chakra means that your communication skills are strongly focused on the healing of yourself and others.

The color Red (related to material and physical focus) in the Third Eye Chakra means that your mental and psychic capacities are focused primarily on material and physical desires. This may also indicate an imbalanced or unstable flow of mental energies in the brain.

The color Green (related to emotional energy) in the Crown Chakra means that your highest purpose and predominant spiritual priorities involve the experience of emotions, including love.

HEALTH LEVEL INTERPRETATIONS

Physiological Analysis

The Health level of the human bioenergy field, radiating 0-4 from the physical body, consists of electromagnetic resonance from neurological activity originating in the brain, combined with electromagnetic field energy transmitted from the various areas of the body. The colors of bioenergy detected in each region of the body reveal information about conditions in the specific region where each color is found.

Distribution of detected bioenergies within the Health Level:

Red: 17.6%; Rose: 5.9%; Gold: 11.8%; Green: 23.5%; Cyan: 5.9%; Navy: 11.8%; Purple: 5.9%;
Orchid: 5.9%; White: 11.8%

Red - Biological malfunction or physical damage. May also indicate a pain response or pain sensation in the area of the bioenergy, with or without actual malfunction or damage. Generally unhealthy.

Rose - Sensory stimulus is currently acting upon the effected area. Related to sensual and physical body experiences, physical comfort and enjoyable sensations of the body. Generally healthy.

Gold - Healing energy is emanating from an area which is already vital and healthy. This excess of healing energy projects outward to contribute healthy and healing energy to the environment, and other people, animals, plants and objects which come in contact with this bioenergy.

Green - The effected area is currently experiencing either a state of increased blood circulation, or a situation where healthy neurological activity is causing an increase in blood circulation from an inhibited, unhealthy level, up to a healthy level.

Cyan - Comfort and healthy biological activity in the circulatory systems, including blood circulation, respiratory, and lymphatic systems, and any fluid generating systems in the area of the bioenergy. Generally healthy.

Navy - Increased biological activity. Could be current functioning of metabolic systems, or certain organs or circulatory systems currently exerting extra effort. Generally healthy, unless this bioenergy appears in the same area for extended periods of time.

Purple - There is a clear and direct psychosomatic connection to the area of this bioenergy. Mental activity is currently influencing and controlling biological activity and physical health in this area. This indicates a very high probability of success using hypnosis, psychotherapy, meditation, or biofeedback to control or heal any health complaints or problems in the area of this bioenergy. Generally healthy, but often indicates an area of pain or malfunction which has no purely physical cause, and can be easily corrected by working with the psychological factors.

Orchid - There is a clear and direct Mind-Body connection to the area of this bioenergy. The person has a positive and pleasant psychological association with the part of the body where this bioenergy is located. Events, actions, and therapies involving this area are highly likely to have a significant psychological impact upon the person. Also indicates that mental activity is currently influencing and controlling biological activity and physical health in this area. Generally healthy.

White - Pure, high-frequency electrofield energy is projecting from this part of the body. Indicates a discharge of bioenergy, usually in the form of excess biological energy or mental brain wave energy.

This bioenergy indicates a static discharge of bioenergy as direct current, related to general emotional release, or release of bioenergy from physical stress.

Endocrine System Analysis

The Chakras are bioenergy vortices located at fixed points along the spinal column, which radiate energy-information related to the activity of corresponding endocrine glands. Accordingly, they indicate which bioenergies are currently emanating from, influencing, or acting upon the corresponding endocrine glands.

The Base Chakra, located in the genital area, is related to the bioenergy information in the Ovaries and Testes.

Purple - There is a clear and direct psychosomatic connection to the area of this bioenergy. Mental activity is currently influencing and controlling biological activity and physical health in this area. This indicates a very high probability of success using hypnosis, psychotherapy, meditation, or biofeedback to control or heal any health complaints or problems in the area of this bioenergy. Generally healthy, but often indicates an area of pain or malfunction which has no purely physical cause, and can be easily corrected by working with the psychological factors.

The Sacral Chakra, located above the genital area just below the navel, is related to bioenergy in the Adrenal Medulla, which stimulates the immune system with the adrenocorticotrophic hormone.

White - Pure, high-frequency electrofield energy is projecting from this part of the body. Indicates a discharge of bioenergy, usually in the form of excess biological energy or mental brain wave energy. This bioenergy indicates a static discharge of bioenergy as direct current, related to general emotional release, or release of bioenergy from physical stress.

The Solar Plexus Chakra, located around the navel, is related to the bioenergy in the Islet of the Pancreas, which stimulates the nervous system with insulin.

Burgundy - Increased biological activity in the form of growth, regrowth or regeneration. Generally healthy.

The Heart Chakra, located at the center of the chest in the heart area, is related to bioenergy in the Adrenal Cortex and the Thyroid, which stimulates biological manifestations of emotion with thyroxin, and the Anterior Pituitary, which triggers hormone secretion in the whole endocrine system.

Orchid - There is a clear and direct Mind-Body connection to the area of this bioenergy. The person has a positive and pleasant psychological association with the part of the body where this bioenergy is located. Events, actions, and therapies involving this area are highly likely to have a significant psychological impact upon the person. Also indicates that mental activity is currently influencing and controlling biological activity and physical health in this area. Generally healthy.

The Throat Chakra, located at the center of the throat, is related to bioenergy in the Thyroid and Parathyroid glands.

Gold - Healing energy is emanating from an area which is already vital and healthy. This excess of healing energy projects outward to contribute healthy and healing energy to the environment, and other people, animals, plants and objects which come in contact with this bioenergy.

The Third Eye Chakra, located on the center of the forehead between the eyebrows, is related to bioenergy in the Pineal Body of the brain, both an electromagnetic sensory organ and a gland which produces melatonin.

Red - Biological malfunction or physical damage. May also indicate a pain response or pain sensation in the area of the bioenergy, with or without actual malfunction or damage. Generally unhealthy.

The Crown Chakra, located directly above the head, is related to bioenergy in the Anterior Pituitary gland, which controls the endocrine system.

Green - The effected area is currently experiencing either a state of increased blood circulation, or a situation where healthy neurological activity is causing an increase in blood circulation from an inhibited, unhealthy level, up to a healthy level.

ENERGY FIELD SCORES

Physical Health Score

The Physical Health Score is derived from the use of an experimental equation that calculates a person's probable physical health based on the distribution of colors within the physiological health level of the energy field. This is not a diagnostic parameter and should not be represented as such. ITEM makes no claims as to the validity of this score and shall not be held liable for any misuse or misrepresentation. It is provided as a guide for more in-depth analyses. If in your opinion or experience the score does not represent a person's actual overall health conditions, please disregard it.

Based on the frequency measurements, your Physical Health Score is 59 (out of a possible 100). You are experiencing good overall physical health at this time.

Mental/Emotional Health Score

The Mental/Emotional Health Score is derived from the use of an experimental equation that calculates a person's probable mental and emotional health based on the difference in energy flowing in to the person's energy field and the energy being transmitted outward. This score is based on the theory that a person's ability to process incoming energies and increase their rate of energy-information exchange can be correlated to the person's mental and emotional well-being. This is not a diagnostic parameter and should not be represented as such. ITEM makes no claim as to the validity of this score and shall not be held liable for any misuse or misrepresentation. It is provided as a guide for more in-depth analyses. If in your opinion or experience the score does not represent a person's actual overall health conditions, please disregard it.

Based on the frequency measurements, your Mental/Emotional Health Score is 75 (out of a possible 100). You are experiencing excellent overall mental/emotional health at this time.

Energy Field Stability Score

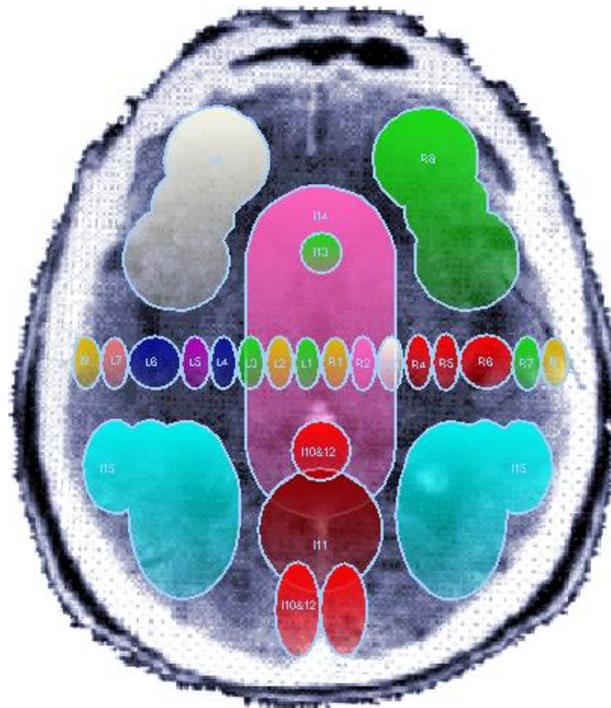

The Energy Field Stability Score is an empirical indicator of how stable or how dynamic a person's energy field is. There are no "good" or "bad" scores. The score takes into account the coefficient of variation for all 40 regions measured in a full-body scan, as well as the difference in mean frequency between the left and right sides of the Psychological Level. A high stability score generally means that a person has a calm, stable demeanor or personality, and a low stability score generally means that a person has a dynamic demeanor or personality. A variable that must also be considered is the nature of the environment where measurements are taken. In a dynamic environment such as a health fair with numerous people in the area, stability scores will likely be lower than a more stable environment such as a cabin in the mountains.

Based on the frequency measurements, your Energy Field Stability Score is 10 (out of a possible 100). Your energy field exhibits a high degree of variation at this time. This could be a function of the environment you are presently in, of your personality (dynamic), or of the way you tend to process the energies you receive and transmit them back to others and the environment.

Resonant Field Imaging(TM)

<http://www.item-bioenergy.com>

Ruchika Sharma
Tue Aug 04 01:07:25 IST 2015

RESONANT FIELD IMAGING™ Brain Image Interpretations

Subject: Ruchika Sharma
Investigator: Nishant
Date: Tue Aug 04 01:07:25 IST 2015
Session Notes:

Resonant Field Imaging™, or RFI™, an external type of magnetic resonance imaging, is a trademark of Innovation Technologies and Energy Medicine, Inc. (ITEM) (www.item-bioenergy.com). All data, images, descriptions, interpretations, and the computer program are Copyright 1998-2006 by ITEM. All International Rights Reserved.

Spiritual workshops & Sessions: www.WisdomFromLight.com
Checkout our Spiritual Healing Jewellery: www.Zenergy.in

RFI™ is designed only for use in health psychology and collaborative health care, to provide data relating client psychology to health conditions, and to alert non-medical professionals when a referral should be made. The technology is not intended for any medical diagnosis.

INTERNAL BRAIN IMAGE

The human brain is neurologically connected to all parts of the human body, receiving bioenergy information from the various biological and bioenergy systems, and often transmitting bioenergy which can influence those systems. The internal brain image generated by RFI™ shows and identifies the bioenergies which are currently present in specific parts of the brain. The bioenergies in the brain itself can influence the body, other parts of the brain, or aspects of the subject's psychology, through various energy-information exchange processes.

R1) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Lower Left Leg.

Gold - Healing energy is emanating from an area which is already vital and healthy. This excess of healing energy projects outward to contribute healthy and healing energy to the environment, and other people, animals, plants and objects which come in contact with this bioenergy.

R2) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Upper Left Leg.

Orchid - There is a clear and direct Mind-Body connection to the area of this bioenergy. The person has a positive and pleasant psychological association with the part of the body where this bioenergy is located. Events, actions, and therapies involving this area are highly likely to have a significant psychological impact upon the person. Also indicates that mental activity is currently influencing and controlling biological activity and physical health in this area. Generally healthy.

R3) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Left Torso.

White - Pure, high-frequency electrofield energy is projecting from this part of the body. Indicates a discharge of bioenergy, usually in the form of excess biological energy or mental brain wave energy. This bioenergy indicates a static discharge of bioenergy as direct current, related to general emotional release, or release of bioenergy from physical stress.

R4) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Upper Left Arm.

Red - Biological malfunction or physical damage. May also indicate a pain response or pain sensation in the area of the bioenergy, with or without actual malfunction or damage. Generally unhealthy.

R5) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Lower Left Arm.

Red - Biological malfunction or physical damage. May also indicate a pain response or pain sensation in the area of the bioenergy, with or without actual malfunction or damage. Generally unhealthy.

R6) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Left Hand.

Red - Biological malfunction or physical damage. May also indicate a pain response or pain sensation in the area of the bioenergy, with or without actual malfunction or damage. Generally unhealthy.

R7) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Left Neck and Shoulder.

Green - The effected area is currently experiencing either a state of increased blood circulation, or a situation where healthy neurological activity is causing an increase in blood circulation from an inhibited, unhealthy level, up to a healthy level.

R8) Prefrontal Cortex - region controlling cognitive functions and information processing, related to Dopamine which balances and controls the speed of information processing. Contains energy information which is transmitted as brain waves.

Green - The effected area is currently experiencing either a state of increased blood circulation, or a situation where healthy neurological activity is causing an increase in blood circulation from an inhibited, unhealthy level, up to a healthy level.

L1) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Lower Right Leg.

Green - The effected area is currently experiencing either a state of increased blood circulation, or a situation where healthy neurological activity is causing an increase in blood circulation from an inhibited, unhealthy level, up to a healthy level.

L2) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Upper Right Leg.

Gold - Healing energy is emanating from an area which is already vital and healthy. This excess of healing energy projects outward to contribute healthy and healing energy to the environment, and other people, animals, plants and objects which come in contact with this bioenergy.

L3) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Right Torso.

Green - The effected area is currently experiencing either a state of increased blood circulation, or a situation where healthy neurological activity is causing an increase in blood circulation from an inhibited, unhealthy level, up to a healthy level.

L4) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Upper Right Arm.

Navy - Increased biological activity. Could be current functioning of metabolic systems, or certain organs or circulatory systems currently exerting extra effort. Generally healthy, unless this bioenergy appears in the same area for extended periods of time.

L5) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Lower Right Arm.

Purple - There is a clear and direct psychosomatic connection to the area of this bioenergy. Mental activity is currently influencing and controlling biological activity and physical health in this area. This indicates a very high probability of success using hypnosis, psychotherapy, meditation, or biofeedback to control or heal any health complaints or problems in the area of this bioenergy. Generally healthy, but often indicates an area of pain or malfunction which has no purely physical cause, and can be easily corrected by working with the psychological factors.

L6) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Right Hand.

Navy - Increased biological activity. Could be current functioning of metabolic systems, or certain organs or circulatory systems currently exerting extra effort. Generally healthy, unless this bioenergy appears in the same area for extended periods of time.

L7) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Right Neck and Shoulder.

Rose - Sensory stimulus is currently acting upon the effected area. Related to sensual and physical body experiences, physical comfort and enjoyable sensations of the body. Generally healthy.

L8) Prefrontal Cortex - region controlling cognitive functions and information processing, related to Dopamine which balances and controls the speed of information processing. Contains energy information which is transmitted as brain waves.

White - Pure, high-frequency electrofield energy is projecting from this part of the body. Indicates a discharge of bioenergy, usually in the form of excess biological energy or mental brain wave energy.

This bioenergy indicates a static discharge of bioenergy as direct current, related to general emotional release, or release of bioenergy from physical stress.

I9) Cerebral Cortex - region of motor control for the Throat.

Gold - Healing energy. Subject has abundance of healing bioenergy which is not burdened or inhibited by any personal emotional issues. This excess of healing energy projects outward to contribute healthy and healing energy to the environment, and other people, animals, plants and objects which come into contact with this bioenergy.

I10) Visual Cortex - region of the brain which receives visual information from the optic nerves, and processes visual information, including mental imagery.

Red - Material and Physical focus. Indicates mental activity related to material self-gratification, accomplishment of material goals and ambitions. Subject's thoughts may involve power and status, desire for attention and acceptance from others, indulgence or luxury items.

I11) Cerebellum - structure of the brain controlling the nervous system.

Burgundy - Material and physical focus. Indicates mental activity related to survival issues, money, material objects, and the immediate physical environment. Related to instincts, basic human needs and desires.

I12) Pineal Body - organ of the brain which transmits and receives electromagnetic waves, and regulates the hormone Melatonin.

Red - Material and Physical focus. Indicates mental activity related to material self-gratification, accomplishment of material goals and ambitions. Subject's thoughts may involve power and status, desire for attention and acceptance from others, indulgence or luxury items.

I13) Pituitary Gland - organ of the brain related to kidney and urinary functions, reproductive systems, and regulation of hormone secretion throughout the endocrine system.

Green - Emotional energy, love and caring, can also be negative emotion or trauma. Subject is experiencing some emotional event or situation.

I14) Limbic System - region of the brain systems for emotional control, including the thalamus, hypothalamus, and hippocampus, regulating Serotonin and Dopamine.

Orchid - Clarity of thought, psychic activity, understanding of truth. Subject may be currently participating in energy information exchange.

I15) Parietal Lobe - region controlling memory, perception, and self-awareness, contains energy information which is transmitted as brain waves.

Cyan - Comfort and healthy biological activity in the circulatory systems, including blood circulation, respiratory, and lymphatic systems, and any fluid generating systems in the area of the bioenergy. Generally healthy.

BRAIN SYNCHRONIZATION

The electrical activity of the left hemisphere of the brain has been characterized by a frequency measurement of 50.41 MHz. The electrical activity of the right hemisphere of the brain has been characterized by a frequency measurement of 71.85 MHz. The right hemisphere is experiencing greater electrical activity than the left hemisphere, indicating a possible imbalance.

